About

Neil Hollyn is a genre-bending artist who blends indie pop, rock, and raw emotion into a sound that's both fresh and relatable. With tracks like "Icarus & The Sun" and his debut EP Too Late To The Party, Neil is steadily building his presence in the Netherlands and beyond. His music speaks to the complexities of coming-of-age, with lyrics that resonate deeply while pushing the limits of contemporary pop.

Drawing from musical legends while embracing today's sound, Neil's work combines nostalgia with innovation, creating songs that feel timeless yet entirely new. He's redefining the boundaries of pop, one track at a time.
